

New Hazlett Theater

2018/2019 CSA Performance Series Call for Performing Artists & Theatrical Designers

At the New Hazlett Theater, we don't just make art – we make art happen. Our space is an incubator for performers and creators, and we've worked for the last seven years to bring out the best in everyone who has walked through our doors. In the spirit of our mission to cultivate the arts, we have developed the Community Supported Art (CSA) Program. Based on the Community Supported Agriculture model, our CSA series allows patrons to support local artists by purchasing a 'share' and in turn receive access to fresh, new works of art. We're excited to announce an open call for artist applications to participate in the 2018 / 2019 Season.

We will select up to eight performing artists of any genre (including theater, dance, music, spoken word, performance art, etc.) through a competitive application process. In addition to a stipend, the artists selected will receive one performance night at the New Hazlett Theater, including access to rehearsal space, technicians, basic house equipment and front-of-house staff.

We're also continuing the new addition from the 2014 / 2015 CSA Program: The Theatrical Design Pool. Up to eight theatrical design applicants (of any discipline, including scenic, lighting, sound, projection, and costume design) will be selected to participate in a theatrical design pool for collaboration with CSA Performing Artists. Selected Designers will be given a chance to earn exclusive paid positions, promotion within our network, and the opportunity to collaborate with some of the regions most innovative performing artists.

The CSA initiative is built to support local artists in the development of new work while establishing relationships with local patrons. With our first season past the halfway mark, we've seen an incredible amount of support from our shareholder community. With the opening of this year's application process, we're eager to continue our mission to support the many talented performing and technical theater artists living and working in the Pittsburgh region.
